Midland Welcomes Home Its Champs!

By BOB DUFFY

Review Sports Editor Midland High's unbeatable basketball team flew home Sunday on the wings of a state championship and was showered with praise and given a tremendous welcome fitting for heroes.

It seemed that the entire population of Midland, about 6,000 turned out at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport, then piled into some 500 cars which formed a motorcade for the 20-mile parade back to Midland.

The team, coaches and school officials, who went to Harrisburg by bus, were flown to Pittsburgh Sunday on a special flight chartered by the

Throngs turned out along Midland Ave. as the team rode through town accompanied by the high

The parade ended at the high school where a sign reading "1965 state champs" was unveiled

The celebration was topped off with a banquet which drew a standing room crowd of more than 400 last night in the CIO hall as the community paid tribute to its first championship team. The dinner was arranged by the Midland Chamber of Commerce

Praise for the Leopards came from Ernie Green, star halfback of the champion Cleveland Browns, opposing coaches and school and city of-

Each player was introduced and received gifts of shirts, pants, socks and ties from a long list of Midland merchants, numbering more than 100. Plaques and state championship medals also were presented to the 15-man varsity squad.

Mrs. Margaret Migliore, president of the Italian Sons and Daughters of American Lodge 181, presented a special award to Sim Hill as the outstanding member of the squad. The award was in the form of a basketball, listing all of Hill's high school records.

Opposing coaches paid tribute to the Midland squad. Bill Edwards of New Brighton said, "I doubt if any other state in the nation has a team as good as Midland."

Kuzma, who has directed Midland to two straight undefeated seasons, told the large audience, "I will always hold a special place for this team. They reached their goal and I hope we can always remain friends."

Kuzma and assistant coach Ed Olkowski were presented with gift certificates.

Toastmaster Nate Lippe, head basketball coach at Howell, introduced Green, who helped the Browns to an NFL title this year, playing a key role from his halfback spot.

Although his fame has been gained through football, Green is also a representative of the Juvenile probation office in Elyria.

"Athletics is the greatest builder of character and teamwork," he said. "It was because of athletics that I went to college and obtained an educa-

Green told the Midland athletes, "Today you are the champions, but what about tomorrow? Anything short of the best will be a big disappointment to you and as a champion more is expected from you than others.

"My advice is that what happened to you this season serve as an example for you through life." Mayor Eli Corak gave the welcome, while Walter E. Gregg, senior vice president of Crucible Steel, congratulated the Midland squad on behalf of his company.

The community testimonial dinner was set up by Mrs. R. D. Paisley, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, and her committee of Lester Smith, vice president, and Paul McGeehan, executive secretary.

You Don't Have To March To Vote

Negroes are marching long, tortorous and possibly treacherous miles in Alabama, risking injury - even death - in their drive for the right to vote.

They are waging a valiant battle for a privilege which is theirs under the Constitution, but which has been denied them, nevertheless, in some instances.

Fortunately, in East Liverpool cherished voting privileges come relatively easy. There are no marches to make. All that is necessary is compliance with the voting laws of the state.

But, strange as it may seem, there still are some who will forfeit their vote simply because they won't take the time to register. In most cases, registration requries only a matter of minutes. The box on the front page of today's Review will inform you whether you must register to be eligible to cast a ballot in the May primary. Check it closely at once, since

It's hard to understand why, merely belives to gain this same right.

Inconclusive Investigation

Columbus investigators who tried to establish a maximum limit of tolerance for alcohol, to help Ohio law enforcement cope with drunken drivers, picked a sub-ject who took seven shots of whisky with no apparent effect. He was a state highway patrolman.

Even a test of alcohol in his blood failed to show the 0.15 that was presumed to be the intoxication level, though seven shots of whisky in less than an hour is hard drinking in any man's league.

The investigators should go to the library and dig up the reports on alcohol-Ism made some years ago by the Yale Institute for the Study of Alcoholism.

One of the things the institute learned is that intoxication is only partly a physical state. It is also a mental state.

That is, some humans can become mentally intoxicated at the thought of becoming intoxicated. They're the kind described as "cork smellers." They have a giddy reaction to the very thought of drinking.

There is no way to measure the state of a "cork smeller." He might not have enough alcohol in him to give his breath a bouquet yet be giddy as a Kansas jackrabbit in a cyclone.

The physically measurable effects of alcohol, it was learned, are anything but absolute as far as actual intoxication is concerned. It was learned that some people react more quickly and intelligently

Birthday Greetings

There's one really big birthday party taking place this week.

The "guests" are the some 1,000 members and 200 adult leaders of the East Liverpool Area Camp Fire Girls, who are joining in the observance of the national organization's 55th year.

The Camp Fire program has made and is continuing to make a vital contribution to the lives of those associated with it.

The unsung VIP's in this and other youth programs are the dedicated leaders and guardians who contribute hour upon hour of volunteer service to make things click the way they should.

The success of the organization rests squarely upon the availability of willing and hard - working leaders. Too much credit cannot be given to the fine group of people who devote their time and effort to this most worthwhile endeavor.

Congratulations to the Camp Fire Girls as they begin a busy "birthday week."

The White House is frowning upon any lengthy debate. Though the bill is a highly technical document and requires thorough consideration in committee hearings and full discus-

The minority leader of the sion on the floor of the House and Senate, there is a crusade going on already to make it appear that any such procedure would be nothing more than a delaying "filibuster."

Not since the 1930's-when President Franklin D. Roosevelt submitted to Congress his measure to "pack" the Supreme Court in order to be able to appoint enough new members to the court to overturn the existing majority-has there been any such extreme proposal as Mr. Johnson has just sent to Congress.

THE PROVISIONS for the punishment meted out to four states are a form of ex post facto legislation, which is forbidden by the Constitution itself. These states are to be penalized now for acts that took place years ago.

Although the Constitution specifically gives to the states the right to stipulate the qualifications for voters in federal, state and local elections, the new legislation would take this power away from those states alleged to have discriminated in the past in applying the standards for voter qualification.

Many other phases of the bill will come in for question. There will be no disagreement with the objective, which is to secure equal voting rights for all citizens without discrimination on the basis of race or color, but two wrongs do not make a right, however worthy the motives may be

There is a way provided in the Constitution itself whereby any amendments to the document can be lawfully adopted.

MANY FLAGRANT violations of the Constitution, moreover, are contained in the proposed courts that "no decision of a hearing officer shall be overturned unless clearly erroneous.

This is the first time the judiciary would be given orders by Congress as to how it shall decide cases. Also, certain types of cases can be filed only in the U.S. District Court located in Washington.

The Republican party has an obligation to its own followers as well as to the American people. Its leaders could agree in principle with the objectives of the measure but to participate in the actual drafting of a bill of such a controversial nature deprives the American people of the opportunity to get the analysis and criticism which it has a right to expect from a minority party.

There are murmurs about all this in Congress today, and many members have not yet heard from their constituents but the Republican party is in for a lot of trouble due to the fact that it has fallen victim to the wave of emotion which has surrounded the civil rights

The whole procedure is rem-iniscent of the beginning of the Reconstruction Era 100 years ago, the tragic results of which still are being felt.

A COALITION in Congress of Northern Republicans and Democrats at that time accepted as valid the ratification by Southern legislatures of the 13th Amendment, abolishing slavery, but when the 14th amendment was rejected by these same legislatures they were suddenly declared illegal by an act of Congress, and puppet regimes were set up which were coerced into favorable action under the pressure of federal troops in the legislative halls. Today, as happened a century ago, the Congress is being ruled by the Machiavellian doctrine that "the end justifies the means.'

'Pad 34'—A Union Battleground

By VICTOR RIESEL

CAPE KENNEDY For at least 12 days early this month the heart of the moonlanding Project Apollo stood still - paralyzed by weird strike. T h e heart which w a s stilled is Pad 34, the very center of the effort to put astronauts on the moon and get the m

back by 1970. Victor Riesel the preliminary test shots. From it will roar a Saturn 1 capsule with 11/2 million pounds of thrust instead of the final Saturn 5's 7.5 million. In that capsule will be instrumentation exactly like that on which the astronauts' lives will depend. Yet Pad 34 had been made the private battleground of the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union - fighting for control over four or five more jobs on the pad than are in the union's jurisdiction now.

In the parlance of the operating room, NASA has been doing open heart surgery on Pad 34when the construction unions permit it. The launching pad needs revamping of its hydraulic, pneumatic and fuel systems. Thus the liquid oxygen, hydrogen and helium will flow as needed by the tests.

TIME IS PRECIOUS. The sub-project was awarded to a non-union contractor. However, there was the proviso that he operate under the Project Stabilization Agreement.

The contractor had to go to the union hiring hall and ask for Plumbers and Pipefitters. He was willing to hire union men. He asked for union men.

The union said - no. They would not supply such labor unless the contractor agreed to unionize all his work, off as well as on this space complex.

The contractor then went back to the Army Corps of Engineers with which he was dealing. Unionization of the rest of his projects off the base could not be settled now, he reported. He needed men immediately and the union was dickering and refusing to supply them.

THE ARMY CORPS people, harassed by the time slippage and the awesome deadline, said get going

The contractor went into the open market and hired pipefitters. The union struck on March 4, refusing either to supply men or to work with nonunion men.

So the Electricians went out in sympathy. This caused a chain reaction. Without electricians there was no juice.

Without juice there were no operable power torches. Without torches there was no toil for the Ironworkers. With the iron men made idle, the others could not go through their

Thus, because the non-union contractor felt he was in no position at the moment to extend union contracts to work he was doing on dormitories outside of the Cape Kennedy-Merritt Island moon port, the union paralyzed Pad 34.

THIS WAS about the 80th violation of the no-strike pledge given by the Building and Construction Trades Unions' council on the base.

Ace mediators rushed down from Washington in an attempt to impress the local leaders in Orlando of the global significance of getting to the moon "first."

End To Nonsense

By Raymond Moley

In the high-riding fraternity of the Great Society there is, as in the days of the New Frontier, a standard dialectic. If some realistic fellow comes along with a criticism of some uplight program or agency of the federal government, he is challenged in these terms:

There were pleas and pres-

Corps of Engineers. But the Plumbers and Pipefitters re-

"Don't be against everything! If you don't like the WYZ program, what would you substitute for it?"

My answer to this sort of argument is this:

"Why do I have to think up a substitute for something that made no sense when it was established? You are the people who created this program. I'm not interested in finding substitutes for nonsense.

It seems to me that the Republicans in this Congress, badbeaten last November, shocked by internal strife, bewildered by the tremendous packages of programs that LBJ is hurling at Congress, and fearful of his present popularity, are the victims of the administration's argument.

THEY AREN'T willing to oppose. They shrink from "metooism." They are following a course of "just-as-goodism."

Some of the programs they are offering as substitutes for Great Societyism could be just as expensive, just as unnecessary, and just as unworkable.

Since Republicans are an opposition party, why not oppose new programs that have no merit and, while they are at it, demand the abolition of some of the programs already feeding out of the U.S. Treasury?

Now let us consider a prize example of federal welfare the Area Redevelopment Administration (ARA). It was established by Congress because a number of liberals made piteous outcries about what they called "depressed areas."

A LAW was hastily written and passed, and a bureaucracy was set up to spend appropriations. The people who wrote and passed the measure were not at all clear about the meaning of a "depressed area." The job of selection was left to the new ARA. But no bureau is worth its pay unless it manages to find places to spend its money.

NO NON-UNION employer is an investigation.

A long list of depressed areas was compiled, some of which had never believed before that they were depressed at all. But in went the money, with little discrimination about needs or results or accounting methods.

Then the watchful eye of the comptroller general was turned upon this agency, and in June, 1964, it sent to Congress a blistering report. It pointed out that the ARA had overestimated the number of on-site man-months which would be created by 190 projects by 128 per cent and that in 497 projects "the 50,853 on-site man-months reported as having actually been worked . . . were overstated by 23,008 manmonths, or about 83 per cent."

NOTHING MUCH happened as the result of this audit, but the comptroller general hurled another bombshell in August, Another critical report was issued in December. In early January, 1965, there was another report showing the same sort of waste by the ARA.

Following this, there was another in late January. On March 9 there was still another.

Thus, within a year the supreme authority set up to inform Congress of the operation of the agencies it has created has issued at least six successive critical reports about this agency.

Meanwhile, the omnibus poverty program has been superimposed to care for depressed areas and persons. But this overlapping is so common in this vast government that the ARA is likely to continue. For once an agency has been created, it assumes a certain immortality, even when it issues misleading reports, overstates its accomplishments, and fails to keep an accounting system which the General Accounting Office can approve.

Is there any substitute for this agency? No! It should be

You were advising Red Skelton the other day to stick to clowning, which he is a master at, and to stay away from making like a standup comedian. So I guess I can advise Arthur Godfrey to stick to being a master of ceremonies, accomplished host and small-talker and to stay away from singing. Ouch!

It has seemed to me the University of Notre Dame was mistaken to try to enjoin the showing of that movie about its football team and that some of the people trying to shut down the play "The Deputy" were mistaken, but Jane Fonda's case is different. You may have read where this daughter of actor Henry Fonda insisted on a big canvas patch being placed over part of her shown nude on a billboard on Times Square in New York. # Midland Goes All The Way-Maybe A Little Farther; Leopards Win State Title In 90-61 Romp Of Steelton

Hill, Brown Team Deliew For 60; Leopards Post New Records

By BOB DUFFY Review Sports Editor

Today may be another blue Monday in most Pennsylvania communities, but not in Midland because its basketball team and followers haven't quite gotten over the school's first state championship.

Midland High went all the way - and maybe a

Not only did Hank Kuzma's dream team win the Class A crown with a 90-61 romp over Steelton, but the Leopards were being heralded around the Keytone State as the best team that ever came out of the West, if not the best that ever won a state championship.

After a record-smashing performance in the finale, even the most loyal Steelton fan in the crowd of some 7,600 at the Farm Show Arena in Harrisburg was most willing to admit that Midland was the finest high school team he had ever witnessed.

Counted Out From Start

STEELTON, the pride of the East and a good team, was counted out in the first quarter as Midland overwhelmed the Eastern foe with some fantastic shooting and speed.

The script during Midland's finest hour did not change just because Kuzma was sending his talented team after the school's first state title.

The convincing victory followed the same pattern which carried Midland through 28 straight games without a blemish this season. It was another unselfish team effort, the rare quality which separates a champion from an also ran.

Each member of Midland's starting lineup was a star in his own right as each combined his final effort to land the biggest prize offered in Pennsylvania high school basketball.

The only records left in Harrisburg would have to be found in the Capital building, because the Leopards brought most of those for a championship came back to Midland.

Set New Total In Final

THE 90 POINTS shattered a final game record of 76 set by Farrell in 1959 and the margin of victory was the largest for a title game, breaking the old spread of 25 in Pittsburgh South's 42-17 victory over Reading in

Sim Hill, already named the No. 1 basketball player in Pennsylvania, showed the Eastern fans why, as the 6-51/2 standout went on another record-breaking Youngstown Vs. City League Stars performance by scoring 31 points, a new championship

Leopards Shoot 59 Per Cent

THE SHOOTING of the Leopards was fantastic. Dave Bell, Willy Tucker of In the first period, the Leopards left the crowd buzzing Chester VFW, Ted Robinson of by making 13 of 17 chances to roll in front 28-12 at the George Bright's, Woody Dietch end of the quarter.

Midland grabbed a 5-0 lead, then moved out to a 13-7 margin. A volley of nine points sent the score to 22-9 and the Leopards were on their way to a title.

Staticians couldn't believe their eyes when they compiled the first half totals which saw Midland make U. squad, will lead the Youngs-19 of 26 for a phenomenal 73 per cent. This shooting town five to town. Jones is average put Midland on top 50-28 at halftime and the scheduled to have another try lead was maintained at 68-47 after three quarters.

Hill took 21 shots and made 13 while taking down 18 rebounds. Brown was the most accurate for the Leopards, hitting 11 of 14 from his post near the hoop.

Midland wound up with a 59 shooting per centage, a mark any team would find hard to beat. Steelton made 26 of 77 for 33 per cent.

SOME OTHER records broken in the 1965 title game, which will not soon be forgotten, were: Individual field goals: Hill's 13 breaking the record of 12 held by three other players. Most field goals by one team, Midland's 34 breaking the record of 28 by Haverford in 1958.

Hank Has Old Home Week, Tops Alma Mater For Title

Henry (Hank) Kuzma, a 1945 graduate of Steelton High School, may have his high school diploma revoked after his Midland team gave his home town a lesson in basketball in Saturday's state championship

The 1965 Pennsylvania title game must have seemed like old homeweek for Hank. His parents were in the stands and his mother saw her son's team play for the first time. And what a game the Leopards played!

Kuzma also was opposing Marty Benkovic, a friend who grew up on the same block with

One of the finest moments in his basketball life came to Kuzma Saturday night in his own backyard. His native town of Steelton is only three miles from Harrisburg.

WITH WELL-WISHERS flooding the Midland lockerroom following the history - making finale, Kuzma said, "This definitely is one of the biggest thrills of my career."

"This is the finest team I have ever had. They have confidence and are well disciplined. I always felt that this team could beat most other clubs, including Steelton, eight out of 10 times, but you never know when you might lose those two out

At any rate the Leopards didn't lose Saturday night. Kuzma explained to Eastern reporters that "we could never get through the WPIAL in the past," but Midland went all the way after crashing the WPIAL barrier for the first time.

IN THE Steelton dressing room, Benkovic was quite pleasant, even though his team had just dropped the big one.

-Junior Editors Quiz on-LIGHTNING

QUESTION: Where is the safest place to be in a thunderstorm?

* * * ANSWER: With the summer season approaching, this is a very sensible question to be asking. Lightning is caused by an electric current flowing between parts of clouds or between clouds and earth. It is so strong it can kill the person it happens to strike, and for this reason you should know where to be when lightning is flashing close by. Our top illustration shows two places not to be in a thunderstorm. Get your sailboat ashore before the lightning comes close; it might hit the tall mast. Don't get too close to water or lakes in a thunderstorm. Another bad spot is shown at upper light: a boy standing under a lone tree on a hilltop. Avoid both hilltops and lone trees. The safest thing, if outdoors, is to keep to low-lying ground and lay down yourself. Among the safest places are steel framed buildings with lightning rods such as city buildings. Inside a closed car you are also well protected. Inside a house, you should keep away from open windows and doors and be sure not to touch plumbing fixtures or anything connected with electricity such as telephones, electric wiring or radio and TV

FOR YOU TO DO: When a thunderstorm comes, watch for a flash of lightning and then count the seconds before you hear the thunder. In five seconds the thunder sound travels one mile. So if you hear the thunder 10 seconds after you see the flash, the flash will have been two miles

Doris Fronebarger of White, Ga., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
